What's your role at school?

I am the class teacher for Year 5, Pankhurst.

Why do you like working at HPA?

HPA is like a family, with friendly, supportive staff who care about each other. The ethos is positive, with real team spirit and the school is a valuable hub in the community. We are striding forwards with a great sense of adventure, which makes HPA an exciting place to work.

What do you do in your spare time?	I love horse riding and dog walking; singing with bands and other musicians; going to gigs; travelling and experiencing other cultures; reading books; watching films; being arty with photography; writing poetry; and spending quality time with my friends and family.
What makes you happy?	Nature and animals (horses, dogs and small fluffies in particular); music and singing; tea (vital of course); great food; great books; languages (I speak reasonable French); being around positive and loving people. Of course, I love inspiring young minds and my class brings me joy every day. We are a great team!
Tell us something interesting about yourself...	I have had a career prior to teaching. For approximately 12 years I worked within the environment and health sectors, delivering community health and wellbeing programmes based on outdoor activities such as walking and Forest Schools. My work also involved managing, delivering and evaluating initiatives for major European projects including those with educational strands. This work particularly inspired me to teach.
How long have you worked at HPA?	3 months.
